REV CHARLES CONLEY ASSIGNED TO PARISH

POPULAR YOUNG ELGIN PRIEST TO GO TO WALTON, ILLINOIS

Elgin, Sept. 19.—Rev. Chas. F. Conley, assistant rector of St. Mary's Catholic church of this city and head of St. Mary's parochial school, has been appointed pastor of a new church at Walton, Lee county, Ill.

The congregation is an excellent one and the selection of Rev. Conley to the position is a recognition of his services and the efficiency of his work here. There has been a handsome $25,000 edifice erected at his new charge during the present year and the parish is considered in every way a desirable one. He will leave Elgin next week to assume his new duties.

Rev. Conley is one of the best equipped clergymen of the Rockford diocese. He is a graduate of St. Ignatius college in 1903 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts and spent four years at Rome in the study of philosophy and theology. He was ordained in the latter city and was assigned to the parish of St. Mary's in August, 1909. He is a native of Elgin.

Rev. Conley is popular with all classes of people in Elgin and vicinity. He has proven himself a capable young man and an energetic clergyman.

Freeport Journal: Mrs. George Smice of Dixon has returned home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Wm. Reigar, who is very sick at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ward McLees, on Adams street.

DIXON IS SCENE OF HOLDUP THIS A. M.

GUNMAN RAIDS BAKER RESTAURANT, HOLDING REVOLVER ON THE WAITER.

HAPPENED AT AN EARLY HOUR

Got About $15 Out of Cash Register—No Trace of Robber Has Been Found

Arthur Beaver, night man at E. S. Baker's lunch room on Galena avenue, was held up at the point of a revolver by an unknown man early this morning and the cash register was robbed of its contents, about $15. The officers have been working on the case but have obtained no trace of the holdup man, although several suspects have been closely questioned. All of those questioned by the police have been able to show they are not guilty.

According to the story told the police by young Beaver, who was badly frightened after his experience he was at work behind the counter at about 3:45 o'clock when the stranger entered. To distract the young clerk's attention the holdup man asked him the time, and as Beaver turned, pulled a gun from his pocket and ordered the young fellow to stand back. Beaver frightenedly obeyed the robber's command and the fellow then took all the money there was in the cash register, failing, however, to search Beaver, who had a purse containing $10 in his trousers pocket.

Described Bandit.

As soon as the fellow had left Beaver summoned Night Officer Whetstone and told him of the holdup, describing the bandit as a young man, smooth faced, stocky build and wearing a brown suit and a dark soft hat. The police at once began looking for strangers answering the description furnished by Beaver, but were unable to obtain any clues that might lead to his apprehension.

SOME OF FISH

WILL BE SENT HERE

They expect to save about 3,000 of the finny tribe a day. Part of the fish will be placed in the Mississippi river, while the remainder will be sent to the fish preserves at Dixon and Freeport.

George Gehant left this morning for Champaign, where he will enter the U. of I.

Steve Benjamin went to Clinton, Iowa, this afternoon for a short business visit.

"DIXON'S GREAT WHITE WAY"

GATHERS FEED FOR PETS DIES IN ASYLUM FIELD

PATIENT'S BODY FOUND WITH CLOVER STILL GRASPED IN HANDS

With both of his stiff, gnarled hands clutching bunches of red clover, which he had been gathering for his pet rabbits, Ralph Ladd, aged 57, a parole inmate of the Elgin State hospital, was found dead in the pasture of the institution's farm early Thursday morning.

There were no marks of violence on the body and from its appearance Ladd had sunk to the ground with an attack of heart trouble and expired. That his hands did not release their grasp on the bunches of clover is considered remarkable.

IS GOOD NEWS FOR THE CITY OF AMBOY

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF CHANGE IN THE DIVISION POINTS IS MADE.

The Chicago papers today state that the Illinois Central Railroad company has definitely announced the change of division points from Freeport to Amboy, which contemplated action was announced in the Telegraph several months ago. The change is made to enable freight crews to complete their runs easily within the sixteen hours allowed by the federal laws and will mean that divisions will hereafter be from Centralia to Amboy, Amboy to Dubuque and Dubuque to Waterloo.

The change will mean much for the bustling little Lee county city. A large number of crews will, because of the change, move to that city and as a result thousands of dollars will be circulated there by the railroad men.

NOT REQUIRED TO TAKE LOOSE COIN

Postmaster Frey has received a bulletin from the postal department stating that rural mail carriers are not required to take loose coin from the rural mail boxes. Patrons who wish the carriers to take money must enclose it in an envelope, wrap it securely in paper or deposit it in coin holding receptacles.

Mrs. R. W. Zarger has returned from a two weeks' visit in Chicago.

DIXONITE LOSES A VALUABLE DIAMOND

S ROBBED BY "DIPS" AT AMBOY AS HE BOARDED TRAIN—WORTH $500.

One of the Dixon men, whose name has been suppressed because of his chagrin at the incident, in attendance at the Amboy Fair yesterday, was smoothly "frisked" of a beautiful diamond pin, worth over $500, by a couple of "dips" as he boarded the I. C. train for home at Amboy last evening.

The crooks had probably seen the pin earlier in the day and followed the Dixon man until they got him in a crowd and had a good chance to jostle him and make an opening for their work. As Mr. Dixonite got on the train one of the crooks was directly ahead of him and the other right behind him and just as they got to the door of the car the two men pushed toward each other and squeezed the Dixon man between them. They jostled him for a moment, and he was unsuspecting, as there was a big crowd in the car and also behind him. The moment he was released from the jam and stepped inside the car it came over him that he had been robbed and he put his hand to his tie, knowing before he did so, he says, that his pin was gone. He rushed back to the platform and found one man whom he thinks was an assistant in the deal, but the fellow denied any connection and as the train was moving out the Dixonite decided his pin was gone for good, and climbed sadly on board.

PHYSICIAN ENDS LIFE

IN MANNER OF WIFE
Freeport, Sept. 19.—Brooding because of the death of his wife, caused by taking a dose of morphine, Dr. C. E. Fogg of McConnell, chose the same method to end his own life yesterday morning. He took 50 grains of morphine at about 7 a. m. dying from the poison at 6:45 last evening after being unconscious from 3:30 a. m.

RAILROAD TOWERMAN HAS A THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Meyers leaped from the little room to the ground, and the fire was later extinguished by a bucket brigade with small loss.

A NEW TRACK RECORD YESTERDAY IN AMBOY

DAN FIELD LOWERED TIME TO 2:14 1/4 AND DUKE W. CUT OFF TWO SECONDS.

RACES WERE VERY FAST

Horsemen Say Races Were Away Above Standard and Excitement Ran High During Afternoon.

The old track record was broken in the 2:14 pace, which race was the feature of an afternoon of racing such as is seldom seen on the half-mile circuits. Old horsemen, who have seen race after race, pronounced yesterday's speed events to be as good as any they have ever seen anywhere. Close finishes in every heat of the day kept the crowds in the throes of excitement, in which the drivers and horses both seemed to take a part.

The track record was lowered to 2:12 1/4 in the fourth heat of the 2:14 pace, Duke W., a roan gelding by Prince Ananias, turning the mile in that time. The summary of the races:

2:17 Trot—Purse $350.

HELD BUSINESS MEETING

The Dixon Stars held a business meeting at Elh's cigar store last evening to discuss matters pertaining to the team and incidentally to provide some relief for Doris Lightner, their right fielder, who broke his collar bone last Sunday at Sterling. Mr. Lightner carried no accident insurance and accordingly the Stars will probably play a benefit game for him a week from tomorrow.

BUREAU COUNTY APPRO-

PRIATES OVER $150,000

The high cost of living has struck the government of Bureau county. Evidence of this is to be found in the annual budget appropriated by the board of supervisors Friday at the quarterly meeting. Increased expenses in the various departments made it necessary for the board to appropriate $150,000 for the ensuing year. Last year the appropriation was $95,000 and the year before, $65,000.

THE DIVORCE COURT BLAMED

That practically fifty per cent of the reformatories are the offspring of divorced parents, is one of the facts contained in Thomas Speed Mosby's latest book, "Causes and Cures of Crime," to be issued this month, and in which the divorce problem is handled without gloves.

WON WITH MORGAN HORSES

G. A. Sturtz of Amboy won first and second prizes with his entries of Morgan horses at the Amboy fair. Mr. Sturtz raises some of the finest horses to be found in this section.

IS IMPROVING

Mrs. Geo. B. Shaw, who has been ill, has been removed from Katherine Shaw Bethea Hospital to her home.

AMBOY FAIR WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

RAIN SPOILED TODAY'S SESSION AND ALL RACES WERE CALLED OFF.

GOOD ADVERTISEMENT FOR COUNTY

Bad Weather Spoiled Attendance, But Could Not Spoil "The Best Fair Yet."

Amboy, Sept. 20.—Special to Telegraph—Rain, which has been the hoodoo of the Lee County Fair association this year, caused the abandonment of the plans for a hold-over session of the fair here today.

The weather was such that the fair directors early this morning decided to cancel the last day and exhibitors are taking away their entries and there were no races.

The Midway, with its scores of fakirs' booths, lunch counters, etc., was depopulated during the morning when the nomads folded their tents and stole away—not silently, however.

It cannot be said that the fair was not a success, in spite of the bad weather experienced for, during the two fair days, Thursday and Friday, more persons visited the grounds than many fairs are fortunate enough to get during their full season, and the character of the Amboy fair this year was such that its opening next season will be eagerly looked forward to, for the 1913 fair was, without doubt, the very best fair that Lee county or any county in this section of the state ever saw.

Had the weather been good through the session the receipts would have been enormous and many more persons could have seen the fair, but the fair itself would have been no better.

The gentlemen who have so capably and successfully promoted the fair deserve and are receiving the highest commendation and it is to be hoped that they will continue the good work for many years to come, for they are doing a great work for the county, and none could be found who could improve upon their efforts.

CALL OFF GAME WITH ROCHELLE

GROUND WILL BE TOO WET FOR THE CONTEST TOMORROW—STARS UNDECIDED.

Because of the heavy rain of last night and today, which soaked the Rochelle ball park beyond any possibility of its drying up sufficiently for a game tomorrow afternoon, even though the sun shines with all his vigor, the proposed game between the Dixon Browns and Rochelle Orioles, which was to have been played there, has been canceled. The Stars at noon had received no word from Rockford regarding the chance of playing a game there, but it is certain that if the rain continues until tonight the players will not go to the Forest city.

IN GOVERNMENT HANDS

FOR DESERTING ARMY

Rochelle, Sept. 19.—Mathew Doner son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Doner of south Elgin street, held until yesterday for deserting the U. S. army, is in Chicago today awaiting a trial at the hands of the federal authorities. Doner left Rochelle some months ago, facing a grave charge. He later joined the army and deserted. The young man is about 25 years old and while in Rochelle was employed by A. M. Peterson, painter and decorator.

MR. EELIS IS NO BETTER.

There was no perceptible change in the condition of S. C. Eells, president of the City National bank and one of the oldest bankers in the state in point of service, today. His illness is the cause of alarm to his many friends.

TO BUILD BARN FOR

TRYON ROSBROOK

John Meyers, contractor, has secured the contract to build a new barn for Tryon Rosbrook in the Bend to replace the one burned recently.

Dancing School Well Attended
The dancing school held in the new Armory hall last evening under the supervision of Miss Seyfarth was a great success. It was well attended, and everyone had a pleasant evening, all being enthusiastic over the new dances, the Tango, and the One-step. Miss Seyfarth gave the lesson on these two dances. Dixon people seem to have experienced a new enthusiasm in dancing and a number of Dixon's best dancers who had not been dancing the past two seasons, were noted among the guests last evening.

Attended Dance in Dixon
A large number of young people from Sterling attended the social dancing party given Thursday evening by the Mystic Workers. Among those who attended were Misses Marie McKevitt, Mollie Devine and Evelyn Eberhardt and Messrs F. O. Folk and James McFadden.

Takes Up Work Here.
Miss E. Marie O'Brien will resume her weekly trips to this city the coming week. She has just recovered from an extended illness, during time she has been obliged to give up her work in vocal instruction entirely in Chicago, DeKalb, Rochelle and Dixon for the past three months. She formerly had a large class of pupils in each of these places and it is hoped that they will again take up their work with her and that many more will join them.

It does not come amiss at this time to speak of Miss O'Brien's talent and ability as a musician and especially as a teacher of voice culture. The eminent voice teacher of Chicago, Frederick W. Root, in a letter to a friend in Dixon, has the following to say regarding her: "Miss Emma Marie O'Brien is in every way a valuable member of the musical profession. She has voice temperament and intelligence, and she has taken pains to keep abreast of the times, not being content to settle down into the limited routine."

Frederick W. Root is one of the most distinguished and talented voice teachers in this country and his opinion is always accepted as authority on matters of vocal culture. What he has to say of Miss O'Brien will certainly be appreciated by the people of Dixon, where she was born and raised and lived until some years ago, when she found it advisable to move to Chicago in order to keep up with the times in her profession.

To Give Luncheon.
Misses Grace Martin and Gladys Steel will entertain next Wednesday with a 1 o'clock luncheon for Misses Esther Dement, Ada Baldwin and Hazel Graves, the three prospective autumn brides who have been recipients of many pre-nuptial courtesies. The luncheon will be held at the home of Miss Martin.

Guest of Mrs. Kost.

MRS. LARAMORE TELLS TROUBLES

Lady in Goodwater Describes Her Distressing Experience and Tells How She Was Finally Relieved.

Goodwater, Mo.—"Ever since I was a little girl," says Mrs. Riley Laramore, "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia. I suffered misery after eating, and had terrible heartburn."

I thought I had to suffer this way as long as I lived, but when I began to take Thedford's Black-Draught, in small doses, every night, the heartburn was all gone in a few days, and I could eat without distress.

I took two small packages in all, and although that was some time ago, the dyspepsia has not returned.

I speak a good word for Thedford's Black-Draught whenever I have the opportunity. If eating causes distress, we urge you to try Thedford's Black-Draught. It cleanses the system, helps the stomach to digest its food, regulates the bowels, and stimulates the liver.

It acts gently and is without bad after-effects. Try it. Price 25c.

THE FARM MANAGER.

The wealthy city man who indulges in the luxury of a farm, manages to get much satisfaction out of it these days. He is no longer the butt of ridicule for the rural community in which his farm holdings are located.

Development of farming as a business has made it possible for the town man to operate a farm without making himself ridiculous. He has only to employ one of the bright young men from an agricultural college and follow that young man's advice. A large number of college students are daily qualifying as farm managers.

There is much light talk concerning the capabilities of book farmers. The fact remains, however, that college trained agriculturists are making good everywhere. They draw down salaries which compare favorably with salaries paid men in other lines of business. Twenty years from now it is likely that farm managers will be as common as managers of the big retail houses and the like.

SPEAK OF TOURTILLOTT.

Amboy Journal: If the report is true that Dr. Gray of Morrison will not be a candidate for re-election to the state senate, the republicans of the district could do no better than to nominate Major Tourtillot of Dixon. He is popular throughout the district and well qualified to look after the interests of the public. He has served in the lower house, and was defeated for re-election by the "Progressive defection" in the party.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

The Princess theatre will show a two reel drama entitled Success, by Forrest Halsey. Allen Brooks receives his plays rejected and determines to end his life but is kept from doing so by an artist who tells him that success is not in money but in a man's heart and soul. A letter is brought in telling that Allen's play is accepted and on the opening night he falls in love with the leading lady, which ends in a supper afterward; following this we see how the love of the artist girl proves that success is not in money, but in the heart.

MUCH COAL COMES IN TO NELSON IN A DAY

ABOUT 300 CARLOADS WILL ARRIVE THERE EVERY DAY FROM NOW ON.

Three hundred carloads of coal arrived at Nelson over the Northwestern from the McCoupin fields today. From Nelson the coal will be distributed to the east and west. It is understood that the daily number of cars to be delivered at Nelson in the future will be about 300.

Twenty More Crews

For the purpose of handling the output of coal for the Northwestern out of McCoupin county, twenty crews have been transferred to the Peoria line. The crews will be stationed at Benld, the southern terminal of the road, and at Nelson, on this end.

Plan of Operation.

One-half of the crews will operate between Benld and South Pekia. At South Pekia the Northwestern will deliver the coal to the P. & P. and this road will haul the coal to Peoria, where it will be transferred to the Peoria line. The Northwestern will then deliver the coal over the Peoria line to Nelson. Extra crews will also be stationed at Nelson. It is expected that about twelve trains a day will be required to transport the coal from McCoupin county to Nelson.

COOLER WEATHER BRINGS MIGRATION OF DUCKS

Local hunters are commencing to "sit up and take notice" of the migration of ducks toward the south. The rains of the past week, together with the colder weather, have caused the fowl to start for the warmer climes and as a result it is reported that there has been an exceptionally large number of them along the river the past few days.

LAUGH! DO NOT WORRY!
 SAYS I. C. TO EMPLOYEES

Employees of the Illinois Central railroad have been advised in a state ment issued by the management of the company to avoid worry, laughter and lightheartedness as prescribed as antidotes.

"Live complacently," says the statement. "Cultivate the art of living with yourself as you are and the world as it is. This nation once had a strenuous president who always explained his good health in the face of hard work by saying, 'I like my job!' Contentment with your daily lot, satisfaction with one's employment is great aid to dispelling worry.

"Of the mental causes, worry is the worst. Learn to be a master of your moods." Do not permit yourself to drift along like a helpless, rudderless bark tossed to and fro, by every sensation of pain and every wind of mental distress."

CHILD FALLS IN BOILING WATER
 Accident Near Wyanet Almost Fatal to Small Girl.

Pearl, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wilson, farmers residing six miles northwest of Wyanet, was scalded from head to foot Friday morning by falling into a kettle of boiling water. It was thought at first that the accident would prove fatal, but late reports indicate that the child will get well. The little one is under the care of a doctor and trained nurse.

SHUNNED AS LEPER,
 GIRL SEEKS AID

Doctors to Free Her From Dread of Disease Suspicion.

DISOWNED BY HER FATHER

Lived at Trappist Convent in Tracadie, New Brunswick, Where Colony of Victims Are Located.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Because she had at one time been an inmate of a convent connected with a leper colony, Miss Marie Colliers has become an outcast from society, persons knowing her history have made life unbearable by notifying owners of apartments leased by her that she was a leper. Miss Colliers has appealed to the department of health for a clean bill of health.

She was examined by two physicians of the department to ascertain if she had become infected with the disease. Today a more searching examination will be made by Dr. Oliver Ormsby, a specialist in skin diseases.

Stories Make Her Outcast.

Last year Miss Colliers, who now lives at 1141 South Desplaines street, went to the Trappist convent in Tracadie, New Brunswick, where the leper colony is located. Her health failed, and when, upon examination by physicians, it was found she could not stand the climate, she returned to Chicago.

Since her return last December Miss Colliers has lived the life of a hermit because of stories circulated to the effect that she had become a leper. She has been forced to move from place to place, and has virtually been an outcast from society.

No Leprosy, Say Doctors.

Two months ago, Miss Colliers says, she was examined by Doctor Quinn of Rush Medical college, who pronounced her in perfect health and with no trace of leprosy. Despite this fact she has been unable to convince anybody that it was safe to associate with her. Doctors Rawlings and Cunningham of the health department said it was their opinion that she has no trace of the disease.

"Since my return to Chicago, life has been made miserable for me," said Miss Colliers as, with tears in her eyes, she told the story of her persecution.

"I have been followed and people with whom I have been living have been told that I was a leper and that it was unsafe to keep me in the house.

Father Disowns Her.

"Even my father in France has cast me out of the family because I went to the convent. When I sent him a letter telling him I wanted to come home, the letter was returned unopened. On the outside was written: 'You cannot come here. To us you are dead.'

"I came here last June to live with Mrs. Flannigan. I told her the story, but she took me in. I am forsaken by every one who knows I went to the leper colony.

"If the doctor tells me that I am all right, and I am sure he will, I will be the happiest girl alive, and if anyone accuses me of being a leper I will flaunt his certificate of good health in their face. I have been persecuted for a long time, but, thank God, it will be over tomorrow."

PRIEST-SLAYER WOULD DIE

Schmidt Ready to Go to Electric Chair, He Says.

New York, Sept. 20.—In a remarkable statement given to the newspapers, Hans Schmidt reaffirmed his confession of the murder of Anna Amann, declared his willingness to go to the electric chair for his crime, denied that he had committed any other murders, and absolved his alleged accomplice, "Dr. Muret, from connection with any of his wrong-doings.

Schmidt also declared that if he could convince the Louisville authorities that he was guilty of the murder of little Alma Kellner, who met her death while he was connected with St. John's church in that city, he would gladly confess that crime and thus save John Wendling, the former school janitor, who is now serving a life term at Frankfurt for the murder.

TANK SCRAP IS FATAL

 Purdue University.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 20.—One student was killed and twenty-five were injured in last night's tank scrap between freshmen and sophomores at Purdue university. Francis Obenchain of South Whitley, Ind., a sophomore, was the victim. He was kicked on the head and died from concussion of the brain an hour later. Obenchain was a member of the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity and died at the fraternity house. The first year men outnumbered their opponents and the sophomores never had a chance. Many students engaged in the fight were carried from the field, most of them only being exhausted.

Two Fall in College Battle.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 20.—Two students at the University of Washington were taken to hospitals here suffering from serious injuries resulting from the annual freshman-sophomore fight at night.

Flowers for the Indoors.

In choosing plants for the house one should remember that no plant will live long without light—few will thrive without more or less sunlight. The green-and-white Aspidistra is the hardiest in this respect. Plants used for interior decoration must be often shifted, set in light, fertilized and bathed till thrifty, while others in good condition take their places. Weekly changes will maintain a proper effect. Palms and ferns are most satisfactory for such uses; flowering things get ragged very quickly. Begonias carefully tended and not allowed to dry out or get hot make a brave showing. So do wax-leaved woody things—dwarf orange and lemon trees, rubber trees, dwarf evergreens and box trees.—Harper's Household Handbook.

Life at Low Temperatures.

Most recent experiments show that the idea that bacteria in general are not harmed by freezing is untenable. On the other hand, the effect of very low temperatures has been greatly overestimated. It has been observed that as destructive effects are produced upon bacterial life from the temperature of salt and pounded ice as from that of liquid air. The critical point appears to be somewhere about the freezing point of water. An organism that can pass this point in safety may be proof against even absolute zero. A few individual bacteria in every culture tried were able to endure unharmed the temperature of liquid air. This is believed to have been due to the absence of water in the cells.—The Sunday Magazine.

Good Manners.

To every mother: Teach your boy good manners, incidentally bringing to his attention the great advantage they will lend in future years. It may be a small trifle for him to acquire a habit of saying "If you please" and "thank you" readily and spontaneously, but it is no trifling defect in a young man to fail to do so. If he does not jump up to open the door and get a chair for his sister and mother he will never be able to do the thing for any other woman with the naturalness that is true grace. And some day he may forget to do it when the neglect will tell against him in the estimation of those to please whom he would gladly do much.

Necessity of Obedience.

Parents who wish their children to grow up courteous and spontaneously sweet-mannered must from the earliest days of infancy be unremitting in instilling polite behavior into the hearts of their little ones. An early difficulty, not always easily overcome is the curious obstinacy which so many little tots evince when requested to say some baby phrase expressive of thanks, greeting or leave taking. Doable and obedient children will often hold out an unreasonableness time before consenting to utter a "ta" in return for a biscuit or some favor conferred.

Fortress of Silistria.

Should Roumania persuade Bulgaria to hand over Silistria as "compensation" for her masterly inactivity during the war, she will have secured an almost impregnable fortress. Over and over again Silistria has been attacked and taken, but since the Russians last captured the city her fortifications have been regarded as invulnerable. By the congress of Berlin it was decided that the forts should be demolished, but, like some more important clauses in that "peace-with-honor" treaty, the decision was honored in the breach.

INDIGESTION, GAS OR SICK, SOUR STOMACH

TIME "PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" IN FIVE MINUTES ALL STOMACH MISERY IS GONE.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just—that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in a case of sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

REV KEMPSTER TO RESIGN HIS POST

AMBOY JOURNAL SAYS POPULAR
 LEE CENTER PASTOR
 WILL SOON RETIRE.

Amboy Journal:—Our Lee Center correspondent says that Dr. Frederick Kempster, pastor of the Congregational church there has resigned the pastorate, to take effect before Jan. 1, 1914. The announcement will be read with regret, not only by his church and citizens of Lee Center but by people in this vicinity as well. Dr. Kempster is a man of great energy and public spirit, and he has been a power for good in secular as well as in religious matters. He has made a host of friends by his religious and social activities and the good wishes of the people in this section, will go with him wherever he may be called to continue his work.

PUTTING STRINGS ON AUTOISTS

A movement is on foot giving the secretary of state the power to revoke licenses of autoists who have been found guilty of intoxication while driving their cars. The legislation is being promoted upon the theory that while Illinois has no particular interest in the man who is idiotic enough to tank up while in charge of an auto, it has an interest in the lives of others on its public highways. By refusing the drunkard the right to turn on otherwise safe and tractable means of locomotion into a death dealing machine, it would do much toward reducing the income of the undertaker.

SONG OF THE AUTO.

The freedom of roads that go winding along
 Like ribbons of silver and gold,
 By orchards and meadows and gardens and woods,
 And rivulets crystalline cold;
 And a fair panorama of villas and farms
 As the milestones away from you reel,
 Are only a few of the pleasures that go
 With the price of an automobile.

A rose on the cheek and a song in the heart,
 An eye that is steady and clear,
 An appetite equal to pickles and pie
 Without a gastronomic fear;
 A spirit at peace and in tune with the world,
 And nerves that are tempered to steel,
 Are some of the pleasures of health that you get
 When buying an automobile.

The honk of the horn has a magical note
 That charms all your troubles away,
 And the hum of the motor invites you to go
 Where the blossoms and birds are at play.
 There is somewhere a racy new model of speed
 Awaiting my hand on the wheel,
 So put on your hat and together we'll go
 And purchase an automobile.

Goat as a Sanitarian.

The war department has found that the goat is an unpretentious, but effective sanitarian. Ft. Washington, on the Potomac, has been condemned as unhealthful. This was because of the dense undergrowth which is a sanctuary for the breeding of flies and mosquitoes. The goat, a sufficient number of him, is now to be used as a sanitary agent. With his omnivorous appetite, he is expected to eat away the undergrowth and make the premises, having dispossessed mosquitoes and flies of their abiding place, fit for human habitation.

London Traffic Regulation.

The control of London traffic by the police has been a matter of slow evolution, says the London Chronicle. A century ago, when George IV. dined with the lord mayor soon after his accession, it took his escort five hours to force a way through the crowd which filled the streets from his palace to the Guildhall. And it was not until about thirty years ago that the existing system of regulating traffic at crossings was instituted. At the beginning it required four policemen at every important junction to do with difficulty what two constables and sometimes one now effect by a motion of the hand. But the men in blue stuck to their task and hung on to horses' heads and summoned rebellious drivers till the reign of law and order was established.

TERRIBLE ITCHING OF SKIN TROUBLE

Small Red and Yellow Spots on Leg, Covered with Dry Scale, Had to Walk Floor Nights. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

R. F. D. No. 3, Clarkfield, Minn. — "My trouble was of long standing. It started with some small red and yellow spots about the size of a pin head on my leg and every morning there was a dry scale on top covering the affected part and when those scales were falling off the itching was more than I could stand at times. The first year I did not mind it so much as it was only itching very badly at times, but the second year it advanced all around my leg and the itching was terrible. I had to be very careful to have my clothing around the affected part very loose. At night time I often happened to scratch the sore in my sleep. Then I had to stand up, get out of bed and walk the floor.

"Then I read the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I wrote for a sample and got it. To my surprise I was feeling relief after the second application. So I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a fifty-cent box of Cuticura Ointment and when I had used them I was nearly over the itching. So I got another box and that healed it all up so it looked smooth and fine, but I kept on with the Cuticura Soap for six weeks and the cure was complete." (Signed) S. O. Gordon, Nov. 20, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c, and Cuticura Ointment 50c, are sold everywhere. Liberal samples of each mailed free, with 32c Skin Balm. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

The KITCHEN CABINET

H. MY friend, it would be better

If to those who love me gave Tender words while they were with us Than to say them over the grave!

Those who die no longer need them, And the words they loved to know While they lived are only wasted On the cold, dead ear below.

SOME "BEST" RECIPES.

Here are a few good dishes gathered from various sources, which may be suggestive if one is not able to follow exactly the ingredients or proportions:

Princess Salad.—Chop a cup of apple and two cups of cucumbers, a cupful of peaches; mix with a cup green peas freshly cooked or canned. Scoop out the centers from eight tomatoes, use a little of the pulp with the salad mixture; add dressing and fill the tomatoes.

Combination Salad.—Chop six apples with a stalk of celery, half of a small cabbage and a small can of pineapple. Add a package of raisins, and mix all together. For dressing, use a quarter of a cup of vinegar diluted with equal parts of water and three well beaten eggs cooked until thick in a double boiler, beating all the time.

Henrietta Pudding.—Beat the yolks of four eggs, add a cupful of sugar, a cupful of grated apple, a cupful of seedless raisins, a cup of blanched and chopped almonds, two tablespoonsful of citron, a teaspoonful each of allspice, cinnamon, baking powder, and a fourth of a teaspoon of cloves and mix all together. For dressing, use a quarter of a cup of vinegar diluted with equal parts of water and three well beaten eggs cooked until thick in a double boiler, beating all the time.

One Egg Mocha Cake.—Cream two tablespoonsful of butter, add three-fourths of a cup of sugar, the yolk of an egg, three-fourths of a cup of milk, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of vanilla, a cup of flour, a teaspoon of baking powder and two squares of chocolate, melted, and the beaten white of an egg. Fill the layers with a cupful of powdered sugar mixed with two tablespoonsful each of coffee and cocoa, two tablespoonsful of butter and a half teaspoonful of vanilla.

Pat's Remedy.

Irish wit is a well-kept that has never been known to run dry. Pat Maguire had been misbehaving, and appeared before his commanding officer, charged for the third time with drunkenness. Pat stated his side of the case with all the eloquence at his command, but the colonel was unmoved. "Eight days in the guard house!" he said sternly. But in writing the "S" on Pat's default sheet the pen sputtered. Pat noticed this and leaned forward. "They if twill make a '3' any aiser, sorr," he suggested in a persuasive whisper.—Youth's Companion.

Quicker Action Needed.

"We must have a cashier in the book department."

"Why?"

"To many people read books while waiting for their change. Then, of course, they want to exchange the books they have bought."

Her Attention Occupied.

On one of the trains which arrived at the Grand Central Terminal was a woman who had come from a small New England town and who had not been in New York for several years. When she reached the home of her relative in Brooklyn, she was asked what she thought of the new station. "Which new station?" she asked. When told that she had lost an opportunity to see the wonders of the greatest station of its kind, she said: "I didn't see anything unusual, except a big crowd, and maybe you wouldn't if you had a dog in a basket which you'd smuggled through so far and wondered how you'd finish with him." On her return trip she was unaccompanied, and had time for sightseeing.—New York Tribune.

Boys in Universities.

Of the country-bred boys and the city-bred boys who enter universities, Prof. Walter F. Wilcox has found that the city boys are not so tall, not so heavy, nor so good of lung development. Prof. Wilcox took care to separate the comparative groups by ages, five groups in all, from seventeen to twenty-one. At each age the country-bred freshmen showed a better record of development. Prof. Wilcox thinks that the difference may not be due entirely, or at all, to the influence of city life. Possibly, it may be due to the fact that the rural districts are inhabited by the older American stock, the cities largely by recent immigrants and their descendants.

Judge Could Not See Libel.

Libel in a novel is a quirk in the law that is rather unusual. A man named Wiley in New York objected because he thought he had been injured by this expression in a bit of fiction: "And Dalley, the Star Eater of the Palace hotel—he used to have four canvassback ducks cooked, selected one, and used only the juice from the others. He ordered soup at a dollar a plate, and he had a happy way of buying a case of champagne with each meal, drinking only the top glass from each bottle." Without saying that there was no possibility of libel, the court held that the import of the words was a harmless one.

Magisterial Repartee.

"The gallows will be my end; I'm very passionate," said a young woman who applied to Mr. Hedderwick at the North London (Eng.) police court for a summons against a man for assaulting her. The Magistrate—"I'm very sorry to hear that. You must endeavor to control your passion." Applicant—"But I'm Irish and Spanish mixed." The Magistrate—"That ought to be a splendid mixture—the Spanish people are brave and the Irish people are humorous." The woman said the man was a mean worm to assault her. The Magistrate—"Yes, there are lots of worms; they will have all of us some day."

For English-Speaking Travelers.

The American traveler who finds himself in Dresden or Leipzig will do well in case of need to look out for policemen who wear badges bearing the crossed flags of the United States and England. Officers thus decorated can speak English, and even though it be not the most accurate kind it will suffice. And now Berlin is to follow the same praiseworthy example. A number of officers have been selected and sent to a language school from which they will emerge fully equipped to be guide, philosopher and friend to the wandering tourist innocent of all tongues save his own.

Pat's Remedy.

Irish wit is a well-kept that has never been known to run dry. Pat Maguire had been misbehaving, and appeared before his commanding officer, charged for the third time with drunkenness. ## SULZER LOSES IN FIRST COURT TEST

Plea to Oust Frawley Board Members From Passing on Eligibility Denied.

WILL BAR TECHNICALITIES

Impeachment Body to Halt Evasion of Chief Issues—Accused Executive Finally Yields Office to Acting Governor.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Following the conclusion of the second session of the high court of impeachment convened to determine the fitness of William Sulzer to continue as governor of New York two important points seem to be established.

The first is that it is the purpose of the forty-eight senators and nine appeals judges sitting in judgment on the indictment returned against Mr. Sulzer by the state assembly, to prevent evasion of the main issue involved in the proceeding and that all legal technicalities, even when based upon the fundamental rights of the accused governor to seek vindication, shall be swept aside in order to arrive at his guilt or innocence.

Sulzer Recognizes Glynn. The second development of the day bore only collateral relation to the undertakings of the high court. The suspended governor himself provided it by recognizing Martin H. Glynn, the lieutenant governor, as the acting governor of the state.

Mr. Sulzer, who did not appear before the high court or in the regular office of the governor, delegated his secretary, Mr. Platt, to advise Mr. Glynn of his decision to refrain from performing further the acts of the executive until his fate shall have been determined by the high court of impeachment.

Turns Over Papers. In a letter to Mr. Glynn, who occupied the temporary offices provided for him by the legislature following the refusal of Mr. Sulzer to abdicate on his indictment by the assembly, Mr. Platt turned over to the acting governor papers relating to pending extradition proceedings and documents concerning prisoners whose terms are about to expire through commutation of sentence.

In his letter to Lieutenant Governor Glynn, Mr. Sulzer explains that he had taken such action because of recent decisions of the supreme court that the "executive functions should be performed by yourself as acting governor."

Two Explanations Given. Two interpretations were advanced to explain the governor's reasons for this surrender.

One, coming from the men who are insistent upon his removal from office, is that it foreshadows the formal resignation of Mr. Sulzer before the formal conclusion of the proceedings of the high court of impeachment, in spite of the insistence of his friends and supporters that he has no intention of withdrawing from the service of the state, no matter what the developments of his trial or the consequences to himself.

These men say that even Mr. Sulzer's resignation would not prevent the consummation of the purpose of the court in determining his guilt or innocence.

What His Friends Say.

The version furnished by Mr. Sulzer's supporters is that in recognizing the right of Mr. Glynn to exercise the duties of governor pending the impeachment trial he was actuated solely by a desire to promote the business of the state government, which has been virtually at a standstill since Mr. Sulzer was indicted on August 15.

Counsel for Sulzer lost the first skirmish in a legal battle to prevent the accused executive from coming to trial. Their objections to permitting four senators to sit as members of the court were overruled.

They next attacked the validity of the impeachment with a motion to dismiss the proceedings, but failure to complete their argument when adjournment was taken until Monday precluded a decision in the matter.

Last Appearance in Line of Endeavor Which Has Brought Criticism.

Washington, Sept. 20.—So far as has been announced today will be the last day Secretary of State Bryan will appear on the Chautauqua circuits, for the present at least. By many the prediction is made that, even if Mr. Bryan made no concessions to criticism this year, and even if the president said no word against his Chautauqua speaking, there will be no repetition of it next season.

Peterhead, Scotland, Sept. 20.—That counterfeit bank notes so skillfully executed as to deceive local bankers and shopkeepers were made by convicts in the Peterhead prison was a startling discovery made by Scotland Yard detectives. In printing the bank notes the convicts used paper in which rations had been served them.

"REBS" BARRED AT G. A. R. PARADE

Southern Veterans Made Victims of Order Against Women.

BEERS MAKES EXPLANATION

Commander-in-Chief Says No Affront Was Intended During Chattanooga Encampment—Sham Battle Held.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 18.—Enforcement of an order excluding women and civilians from the forty-seventh annual parade of the Grand Army of the Republic prevented the N. B. Forrest camp of United Confederate Veterans from participating in the parade. Clad in their gray uniforms, the southerners were preparing to form in the line of march with Forsythe post No. 15 of Toledo, O., when they were informed of the order.

An invitation to join in the parade had been tendered Col. L. T. Dickinson, commander of the Forrest camp, by Col. Henry N. Hanson, commander of the Forsythe post.

Beers Explains the Incident. In explaining the incident Commander Beers said he had not known the Confederates were invited to march, but that he heard a body of women was arranging to march with the Ohioans, so he called the attention of Colonel Warnock to an order dated September 2, 1913, barring all persons from the parade except G. A. R. members, an order based on custom.

"The Confederate camp was not excluded because its members were former Confederate soldiers," added Commander Beers, "but because it is the policy of the Grand Army of the Republic to have only its members in the parade with the exception of Sons of Veterans."

In spite of the incident numerous ex-Confederates, clad in uniforms, marched with the veterans in blue. As Dixie's former soldiers were encountered in the crowds along the route, one after another was seized by the Union men and literally "dragged into line."

Reproduce Old Battle. Soldiers of the regular army and National Guard reproduced the battle of Missionary Ridge in the afternoon. Many of the war veterans watched the operations closely, while others were fired with the old military spirit by the heavy cannonading and volleys of rifle firing.

The line of parade was more generally marked by the American flag than any other line during the parades in connection with the forty-six other national encampments, this too, in Tennessee, that furnished 100,000 soldiers for the Confederate army in Chattanooga, for nearly two years occurred as headquarters for a large portion of the Confederate army.

Greatest Asphalt Lake Is Trinidad. The asphalt lake in Venezuela is situated across the gulf of Paria about 105 miles due west of the Trinidad lake. This body covers an area of about one thousand acres, nearly nine times as large as that of the lake at Trinidad. Its deposits are, however, only a few feet deep in some places, so the supply from Venezuela is not nearly so great as that of Trinidad.

Hoped It Wouldn't Be Mentioned.

Mrs. F. D. Moffet tells of a gallant young physician in Cherryvale who was driving his motor car in the suburbs the other day when he overtook a woman he knew going to town. He stopped his car and invited her to ride. He helped her out at Main street, and she thanked him profusely. "Don't mention it," replied the doctor. "No, I won't," said the woman nervously looking around. "But that woman over there saw us, and I bet she will tell."—Kansas City Star.

Alphabet on Pinhead.

While almost incredible, a Portland, Ore., engraver has been able to cut on the head of a common pin every letter of the alphabet, and they are perfectly legible though a strong microscope, and it was only with the aid of such a lens that the work could have been possible. The pin, of the ordinary kind in common use for domestic and office purposes, is owned by Hal Thompson of Washington, D. C.

Preferred Modern Languages.
The Mercure de France has been making some inquiries as to the respective popularity of the various modern languages in the schools of Europe, and it finds that French is still far ahead of all competitors. It says that in England German finds less and less favor, and that pupils who have any option in regard to modern language always choose French. In France, however, since 1870, German has perhaps secured a preponderance over English in the lycees. In Germany the study of French has progressed to the detriment of English, but the government has intervened in order to develop the teaching of English, which it regards as of great importance in commercial matters.
French is now taught in Italy more than ever before, but German is also gaining some ground, especially in the north. In Spain French has more pupils than any other foreign language, and English comes next.—Westminster Gazette.

Domestic Science Graduate.
A Cherryvale woman was delighted when she hired a cook who had taken a domestic science course, Mrs. F. D.
Moffett writes, according to the Kansas City Star. The first day this up-to-date maid announced: "I can't make a flaky pastry unless I have a marble slab." "Where is your spatula?" was the next question. A call was then made for an oven thermometer; this was followed by a plaintive request for a pastry tube, a bread mixer, a grapefruit knife, a rotary cream whip, an egg separator and a glass rolling pin. She talked of balanced rations and garnished the wishes with parsley and curled celery till the man who foots the bills peremptorily ordered more grub and less alfalfa. Yes, the domestic science pupil is hunting another job where true worth is appreciated.

FEARS FOR MONEY BILL

WILSON KEEPS HOUSE FROM RE-CESS TO AID SENATE.

Faces Possible Tie Vote—Measure's Fate at Stake in Committee.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The big Democratic majority in the house will be kept in Washington as a moral influence over the slender Democratic control in the senate where the currency bill is under way.
After a conference with President Wilson Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, chairman of the house caucus, declared no effort would be made for a 30-day recess for the house.
It is understood the president believes the presence of the house will have the effect of strengthening the administration's efforts to pass the currency bill in the senate.
If Senator Hitchcock should continue opposition to immediate currency legislation his aid would enable the Republicans to prevent, through a vote in the senate banking committee, any affirmative action or reporting the bill at once to the senate.

beds in which his children slept, tied two charges of the explosive to himself and ignited them. Only those tied to his body exploded, and he and his seventeen-year-old daughter, Maude, were killed, two other children and his wife were hurt and their home was damaged. He had been separated from his wife for six weeks, and yesterday she refused to let him return.
The dead girl met the fate intended for her mother, and the fact that they had changed beds for the night cost the daughter her life.

STRIKERS AGREE TO TRUCE

London Workers Consent to Arbitration Plans.

London, Sept. 20.—The strike situation in London is improved. The bus men who had not gone out agreed to a truce pending arbitration by the board of trade. Motormen and conductors of the Tilling Omnibus company, however, will remain idle meanwhile, which will keep 500 buses off the street.
Danger of a railway strike is not yet over. Birmingham labor leaders are attempting to force a general strike.

The strike extended to Sheffield, Derby and other places. Dublin was quiet. At Manchester 5,000 dockmen are on strike.

Lese-Majeste.

A post card recently mailed at Karlsruhe, Germany, bears the pictures of the German emperor's daughter, Princess Victoria Louise, her intended husband, Prince Carl August of Cumberland, and Prince Oscar.
The picture was taken in the palace park at Karlsruhe and shows the smiling princess walking between the two uniformed young men, who also "looked pleasant" for the camera. The card probably would have been confiscated had a German official read what was written on it: "Isn't this real German? Not that the young people walk hand in hand—but that for this is a real love match—but that two men walking with a young girl between them should both be smoking.
Well, maybe it's all right these days, but we should be satisfied to see the third party smokeless."

Modern Egyptian Woman.

In Egypt some old customs are prevalent regarding women which could scarcely be more destructive of those qualities that lead to progress or more certain to bring a race to a standstill.
As a rule there is no family life among the masses, and superstitions of the grosser kind are entertained. The wives are not permitted to eat at the same table with their husbands, and occupy a pitiful position as chattels bought and paid for, being in constant dread of the disgrace of divorce, which may be arbitrarily imposed. Among the more intelligent women the movement for political equality has been eagerly received, and it is expected that the new surfrage association of Egypt will become a strong and influential group.—Christian Herald.

Objected to "Playing Favorites."

A certain New York cleric is distinguished by a marked peculiarity in the way of using his lips when speaking. One day this clergyman was to address a slum Sunday school. During the school's preliminary session it became the duty of one of the teachers to bereave a small but determined pupil of her cherished chewing gum. The child sat silent, wearing a sulky, injured expression, until the visiting divine began speaking.
Then, leaning toward her teacher, she inquired shrilly: "Why didn't you make him take out his gum, too?"

Where They Were.

Sallie, a negro noted for being an excellent worker, was visited one day by one of her old employers. Her little shanty was very small, consisting of three rooms. "Well, Sallie," began her caller, "I have not seen you for many years, but I have come to ask you to do some house cleaning for me.
Will you come tomorrow?" "Oh, no, missus," replied the other, "I can't come any mo'. I've married an' has a large family. I can't come." "How many children have you, Sallie?"
"Twelve, missus." "Where are they?"
"I don't see any about." "Ya'sum, I have twelve—eleven in heaven and one in de house of refuge."

Cultivate Sense of Rest.

In this age of rush and strain not a single opportunity to add to the sense of rest should be overlooked.
Never, when resting during the evening, sit in a straight-backed chair unless necessary; lie down, or put your feet upon another chair, or if neither of these is feasible, use a footstool.
Tired girls, going to their rooms after a long day's work, or weary mothers darning stockings after the children are in bed, should do what they have to do in a way which is as near to lying down as they can make convenient for their work and give their heart a chance.

Willing Sacrifice.

He is but a little lad, William, but already he manifests indubitable traces of a quick and ready wit. The season was early Lent, and the talk at the family dinner table turned on the various indulgences to be denied themselves by different members of the household. "What will you give up, sonnie?" asked the mother, when it was William's turn to speak. "My morning bath," decided William, who hates ordinary water as his satanic majesty is supposed to hate that of a holier variety. "I'd just as soon give that up as not!"

Unsatisfactory Either Way.

The late Joaquin Miller once entertained, among the train of pilgrims continually flocking to his Piedmont camp above Oakland, a young woman fortune-teller. Though the young woman was both pretty and persuasive, the poet would not let her tell his fortune. He said gravely, pushing back his leonine white mane: "No, no! A peep into the future would undoubtedly be as unsatisfactory to all of us as a glance at the past."

Seed Corn Dryers

We are selling a simple Seed Corn Dryer which has the endorsement of all the agricultural colleges and many leading farmers.

Each rack holds 24 ears in such a way that they are free from contact and the air circulates all around them drying all the kernels alike. They require little space and never wear out. A little care in saving seed will increase the yield materially. Call and see them. Price 12 1-2c each.
